

Hannah's Aftercare Instructions

AFTERCARE FOR SANIDERM COVER:

Leave bandage on for upto 3-5 days. Access liquid will accumulate with in the first 24hours. If liquid is enough to where you need to relieve the pressure, find the nearest exiting point and with a paper towel push the access liquid out gently as needed. Try to keep bandage on as long as required for maximum results.

If bandage is irritating the skin enough to where it is causing more damage then follow the instructions below:

For taking the bandage off, please make sure that while you are taking the bandage off, that you are either in the shower or have running water. while having luke warm/cool water running over the bandage, gently start to peel back an edge of the plastic and gently continue at a steady-slow pace until plastic is completely off. If you see that it is taking part of the scab with it, STOP! and let it soak for a moment. Sometimes it takes a moment to let the adhesive desolve under the water. Once bandage is off, let the running water run over the tattoo and gently use your fingers to lightly rub any access plasma and unwanted textures off of the tattoo. Once done, let it air dry for around 10-15 mins and add moisturizer as instructed below.

AFTERCARE FOR SHORT TERM COVER

Leave bandage of for 2-8 hours depending on the situation. Wash tattoo in luke warm/cool water and wash with a non-scented antibacterial soap (like dial soap).

Let the tattoo air dry for unto 10-15 mins till it feel tight and dry like it wants to crack. Then add moisturizer as instructed below.

LOTIONING INSTRUCTIONS

Once your tattoo is fully dry, use a non-scented water based moisturizer. (ex: Curel, Jourgens, Aquifer, or Hustlebutter)

Always start out with a smaller amount to ensure to not over moisturize your tattoo!! Over-moisturizing your tattoo can lead to irritation, redness, water blisters and or zits. It is also a good idea to let your tattoo breathe inbetween applications. If your tattoo feels quite dry after lotioning, go ahead and add another application until you're able to feel more movement in your skin. You want your tattoo to be soft to the touch, NOT GREASY!! having your tattoo greasy to the touch can accumulate bacteria and in tern may cause an infection.

TOUCH-UP POLICY

If there is any noticable ink loss, I honor one free touch-up for the first three months of your appointment. After the three month mark I will charge a $30 fee for the materials used during our session.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know by messaging me either through Facebook and or personal text message as seen below! Thank you so much for your buisness and hope to see you again!! ;)
